From Lake Superior.

From the Detroit Free Press of June 2.

A friend writing us from Lake Superior, gives some very interesting intelligence from the copper regions of that section of the State. He says business has taken a new start this season, which makes the country appear in quite a different aspect. Numerous Companies have commenced operations within the past month, and those that have been working are employing more men and working more extensively.

have been working are employing more men and working more extensively.

I will speak of the mines separately, in the order of their importance at the present time.

The Pittsburgh and Boston Co.'s, known here as the Cliff Mine, might with propriety be called the Metropolis of Lake Superior, as it is one of the first in the country. At present it is the richest in copper, and employs the most men, say 200. This mine (Cliff) is now about 300 feet deep—the deeper they sink, the richer the vein, as it expands in width and length. They are now making the necessary preparations for the erection of a new steam engine which is to elevate the copper and cessary preparations for the election of a local state of the mine. So much for the Cliff mine.

The North American works about 50 men. She is looking better than ever—will send down much copper this season. This mine is about the same depth as the Cliff.

The North West Co. works about 60 or 70 men.

The North-West Co. works about 60 or 70 men. This mine sent off considerable copper last year, but will send much more this year. It is said she yields four or five tuns per month. She is looking very promising.

The North-Western has commenced working this Spring. It is said to look very promising.

The Copper Harbor commenced working this Spring. So far it looks well.

The Albion location has also commenced working. About 20 men are employed. I cannot say much about this mine; it commenced only a few days since. The above mines are all within the Connty of Houghton. I will now speak of Ontonagon County.

The Ridge is looking very well. From the little that has been done done in this mine it is thought to be inexhaustible.

The Adventure is said to, be second to none of the mines of Ontonsgon. There is copper in abun-dance on the surface of the mine. There is also a small quantity of silver to be found. On this loca-tion there are indications that the aborigines of the country worked it years ago, as pits are dug to a considerable depth.

There is another company known here as the Douglass location, which is looking very well.

I have omitted saying anything in regard to the Iron works on Lake Superior, for the reason that I saw an article in your paper, which was quite correct on that subject.

The Saut Ste. Marie Journal contains the fol-

The Satt St. Marie Sourial contains the solution additional items:

The Cliff Mine shipped down on the Pro. Independence last week 150 tuns of mass and barrel copper, worth some $30,000. When our Lake Superior shores contain such boundless wealth, it seems unaccountable that more capitalists do not turn their attention to these placers of more certain in the state there of California.

turn their attention to these placers of more certain riches than those of California.

The Independence also brought down 50 tuns of native copper in masses from the North-Western Mining Company, and a much larger quantity is raised and being got ready for shipment. The copper is the same as that of the "Cliff," being raised in masses of pure metal, and in the vein stone of various degrees of richness.

The Great Hall-Storm in Illinois. The Great Hall-Storm in Hillions.

The following letter in relation to the great Hail-Storm which lately passed over some parts of Illinois, is from an old resident of this town, who is known to many of our readers. His description of the storm and its effects cannot be otherwise than interesting to all who read:

[Warsaw (N.Y.) Mirror.

msy have seen some notice in the public prints before this reaches you.

I crossed its track on thursday P. M., three days after the storm. The first fields of wheat I saw after reaching the desolated region were totally destroyed. I stopped and went into a field to examine the wheat. I found it entirely cut off—every stalk—and it exhibited the appearance of a meadow which had been nowed which had meadow which had been mowed while the grass was young and tender, and the hay well dried. The wheat was up so that the head was formed and almost ready to put forth-so that there is no possibility of its coming up again. The wheat and cats I think will not be lost. fect of the atorm on the orchards and cultivated shrubbery—of which there is a good deal in these counties—is equally disastrous; or at least for the crop of fruit this year. Many of the young or-chards and all the nurseries, if not killed, will be of no value, only that they may be cut off at the ground and grafted next spring—the bodies being so perfectly bruised and mangled as to render them worthless for future use or cultivation

The native forests exhibit almost as sad a picture The native lorests exhibit almost as and a picture of desolation. At noon on Monday last they were literally loaded down with the verdure, foliage and blossoms of Spring. When I passed along they were as leafless and dry as in the month of February, and the underbrush looked as if the Hoosiers had been using it to drive their ox teams.

Of the precise extent of the storm I have no definite knowledge; but it is variously reported from 50 to 100 miles in length and from 5 to 10 in width. I am, however, pretty credibly informed that it extends from Moumouth, the County seat of Warren, to Beardstown—(you will see by the map.) What seems to add to the calamity is, that map.) What seems to add to the calamity is, that the wheat crop has seldom appeared as promising as it is this season, and the price is high, (from 90c to $1.30 at St. Louis,) and farmers had strong hopes to $1.30 at St. Louis, and farmers had strong nopes of "a good time coming," and you know the higher the hopes the greater the blast. I met with a noble, hardy Pennsylvania Dutch-man, who told me he had lost 150 acres of the best wheat he had ever seen in Illinois; said he was just going to buy a reaper to cut it, but said he:

"Thank Gop I had not closed the trade." He cried like a child while he told me the story.

As I passed on, I came to a house where several men and women were out in the shade of their house, for their trees now afforded no shade. I reigned up my horse to stop and talk. The gentleman asked me to come in the yard, and he would slow me a curiosity. I went, and he conducted me to the side of a small branch or stream, by the side of which lay a drift of hail, some four or five yards in length, from two to four feet wide, and from three to twelve inches deep; and the stones from the size of marrow-fat peas to that of prairie chickens' eggs—perhaps you would understand me better if I should say patridges' eggs—but they were not so large. And this was three days after the storm, and one or two days had been very warm, though at this time it was quite cool. Now perhaps you may think this is another "Illinois story," but it is true here—and can be proved by plenty of witnesses.

One of the women in the group above alluded

One of the women in the group above alloded to, showed me her orchard, which she considered totally destroyed. She pointed me to a large cherry tree—the ground under which was completely covered with her Ox Heart cherries, but not a cherry or a leaf on it, and on the windward side but little bark.

The fruit crop as well as the crop crop in this The fruit crop, as well as the grain crop, in this part of the State, was never more promising than it was this season—but all the fruit trees and forest trees in the range of this storm are totally stripped, both of fruit and folinge.

Almost every house has the glass all, or nearly all, broken out on two sides. I have not heard of any loss of human life, or of grown cattle or horses; but I am told of many instances of pigs and poultry, lambs, and some calves, and lots of prairie chickens and other birds, being found dead. In short, I have never heard or known, either by his tory or tradition, of but one hail storm that I have on to think exceeded this in severity.

Yours truly, ISAAC PRESTON.

THE CREVASSE IN GRAND LEVEE .- We learn with p'easure from the Pointe Coupée Echo of the 22d inst. that the crevasse in Grand Levee had not increased since the previous week. By the exertions of Mr. Arthor Adams the ends of the levee or each side were secured in time, so that the breading many the same and the same many that the same many than the same many th each and were secured in time. It had done much is only about 120 yards wide. It had done much less injury than was apprehended—so little, indeed, that many planters suggest the propriety of leaving the present opening unstopped as a permanent could be a permanent opening unstopped as a permanent

The river at Pointe Courée was falling rapidly, being two feet below the high water mark of this year. It goes down at the rate of about two inches in the 24 hours. False River is also falling inches in the 24 hours. False River is also laining at about the same rate, so that by the early part of July most of the parish will be free from water. There will then be ample time to make a crap of corn on the land but lately inundated. The cravasse at Mr. Preston's place has been effectually stopped, and the water has receded from the plantation.

RECOVERY OF TREASURE IN CUMDERLAND ISL AND.—We understand from a gentleman who came passenger on the Florida boat on Saturday, that a party who had been excavating on the south end of Cumberland Island for some time past, succeeded in finding and carrying off a large amount of treasure. The existence of this treasure has long been a master of speculation and many persons have hitherto been attracted to the place by reports of its whereabouts, but have been unsuccessful in their attempts to discoverit. The successful in their attempts to discover it. The present party, it appears, procured their informa-tion in regard to its locality, from an old man, long suspected of having been connected with piratical operations, and have thus been successful in securing the long bidden treasure. A schooner had been lying off and on the south end of the Island several days, whose movements created some surprise. She at length came in, took the party on board, and sailed for parts unknown. We understand the party consisted of lifteen persons. A schooner put in here a few days since, under a very singular pretext. We were unable to re-concile the correctness of her statements, and were careful in making our report, leaving our neighbors to give their own tone to the affair.

TO PROPRIETORS OF HOTELS. BOARDINGSCHOOLS AND BOARDING-HOUSES.

THE ADVERTISER, being proprietor of the Irving inatimue property, at Tarrytown, occupied for twelve years past as a boarding-school, is desirous of retiring from the business, and would be glad to dispose of his property on reasonable terms; allowing, if dealed twohirds of the purchase money to remain on bond and mortage. If not sold before Ostober next, he would probably be wilting to lease it for a term of years. It is admirably situated and stapted for a public bouse. The location is perhaps the most dealrabe that could be selected on the Hudson. Tarrytown is known to be one of the oldest and most agreeable towns in this section of the country, altogether salubrious and moral. It is distant but twenty-five miles from New-York, and is visited in forty-five minutes, arewent times a day, by cars of the Hudson River Railroad, and twice a day by steamboats. The site is less than half a mile from the depot and the atsamboat landing, and being elevated, the prospect is extensive and delightful, commanding a splendid view of the Valley of the Hudson of forty miles, from New York to the Highands.

The edifice is a commodious brick building, 46 feet square, with wings 24 by 32 feet, and a large two-story rear building (also brick) 25 by 46 feet, the whole erected expressly for the Institute, and constructed with all the fachiles for boarding-house convenience. The premises embracing about four acres, at the junction of two principal trees, contain numerous shade and fruit trees, sunmer-houses, a large barn, carriage-bouse and gymnasium.

As noy party interested in this advertisement will undoubtedly visit the place, a more particular description is nunceessary.

MEDICINES.

VEGETABLE MEDICINES,

MINERAL MEDICINES.

THERE is a strong and despening conviction in the public mind, as well as the medical profession, that the remedies supplied by the vegetable kingdom are more safe, more successful, and less permitions in the cure of diseases than miceral medicines.

The public at large don't like the way these poisonous drugs (as most of them are) act.

They are not satisfied that the climax and perfection of all medical science, is to extirpate one disease by installing another. They will not believe that bartering or exchanging diseases is curing them. To remove billiary, scroful ous, or febrile diseases; 'tis to purify the blood. And no medicine has ever been invented half so effectual as Dr. S

MARIETTA, WASHINGTON, Co. Onto, May 9, 1856.

Ders Sr.—I fiel it my duty to you and the public, to make known the wonderful cures performed by your most excellent medicine in this section of the country. I have three Daughters, each of whom, were for some time afflicted with secrotis and eruptions on the face. It required but few bottles of your invaluable Sarsaparilla to entirely care them. To all others similarly afflicted, I would recommend your medidine most cheerfully.

THE PACTORY.

THE IMMENSE and increasing demand for Dr. S.

P. TOWNSEND'S Saresparilla has made it necessary very much to enlarge the operations of manufacture.

Medicinal substances are used to incredible quantities, and as each ingredient requires to be carefully and accurately tested, the proprietors have found it necessary to place the Compounding Department in charge of a competent and Compounding Department in charge of a competent and responsible Chemist—one whose scientific reputation will be a full guarantee of public confidence. Dr. James R. Chilton has assumed this duty.

To avoid imposition it will be necessary to see that DR. JAMES R. CHILTON'S CERTIFICATE as well as the signature of Dr. S. P. Townsend, is on the outside wrapper of each bottle.

DRHASTINGS'S COMPOUND SYRUP OF NAPTHA.
Delebrated inroughout both continents for its wonderful cures of Consumption, Astima. Decline, Spitting of Blood, Night Sweats, Difficult Breathing, Coughs, Colds, and all diseases of the chest and lungs.

Its effect upon the system is mild and soothing, at the same time certain and efficacious; rarely falling to give relief upon the first application, and by repeating its few times a permanent cure is effected.

The proprietor, therefore, not only recommends his Naptha Syrup, but searrants it to cure! He warrants it to act upon the sityle, and purify it—he warrants it to remove all impediments which retard the free circulation of the blood—he warrants it to open the internal and external porces of it a body, and eject all the obnoxious particles which have accumulated in the system; he warrants it as a never-failing remedy in.

the body, and eject all the obnoxious particles which have accumulated in the system; he warrants it as a never-failing remedy in CURING DISEASED LUNGS.

Hectic Fever, Night Sweais, Dyspepsis, Liver Complait, Pain in the Chest and Ashima; and he warrants it to arrest the formation of tubercles in the lungs, and to heal those already formed, so that persons in Consumption may take it with the most positive confidence of a care, for its great seat of action is the Lunas, which it peacetrates in all directions, purifying them of everything obnoxious in its progress, and which, if applied according to directions, it cannot fall to leave in a perfectly healthy condition. Dr. Hasting's Compound Syrup of Napha is highly recommended by the medical profession. That eminent physician, Dr. Mott, of New-York, says that "as a palmonic remedy it sannot be too highly praised" Dr. Arnold, of the Marine Hospital, Savannah; Dr. Ware, of Liverpool, England; Dr. Williamson, of Manchester, England; Dr. Bod of Laccaster; Dr. Hamilton, of Bain; and those eminent English publications, the London Lancet, the Medical Journal, and Brustonictes Retrospect, all accord to it the most convincing with distinguished success.

atimulates while it distributes and expels from the storach and bowels all that is irritating, and at the same time restores their vigor and tone. Its great merit is that it meets and neutralizes the active principle of disease itself, and when that is gone the symptoms necessarily disappear.—The rapidity with which the patient recovers health and strength under this triple influence is surprising. Each new case in which it is applied furnishes in the result a new certificate of its excellence; and we have only to point to the accumulated testimony of multitudes who have experienced its effects, to convince tocredulity itself of its real value.

CANCEROUS ULCER CURED?
